Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 7-12, 16 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 5,822,856 issued to Bhatt et al. (hereinafter, Bhatt).

Bhatt teaches a method of forming a printed wiring board that comprises filling a plated through hole with conductive material such that contact is made to a conductive layer on the surface of the substrate. Bhatt teaches removing portion of the surface conductive layer such that the conductive material protrudes from the through hole to a point above the surface of the substrate. Bhatt teaches the conductive material may comprise a filled epoxy. Bhatt teaches the substrate may be a reinforced epoxy. See: abstract; figures 1, 2 and 4-6; column 2, lines 32- column 3, line 16; column 3, lines 61-67; column 4, lines 56-66; column 6, lines 58-65; column 8, lines 7-22; column 9, lines 25-31.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bhatt.

Bhatt does not teach curing the epoxy to between 20% and 80%.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to cure the extent necessary such that the resulting viscosity would enable the process of filling of the through hole with the conductive material.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
